

DULUTH DEATHS

(Funeral notices will be found on page 10 third column.)

Pioneer Duluth Meat Dealer Dies

George O. Smith, 76, pioneer Duluthian, died yesterday in the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. S. Van Leuven, 514 North Seventeenth avenue east, after a long illness. Mr. Smith was born in London, England, and came to Duluth in 1885. He operated a meat market here for many years and engaged in business as a meat dealer until he retired last fall.

He served as city meat inspector during the term of Dr. E. W. Fahey, health director, about 17 years ago.

Surviving are his daughter and two sons, Al Smith, former Duluth actor and theatrical manager, now of Hollywood, and Walter A. Smith, Duluth; a sister residing in England and a brother in Toronto, Ont.

HENRY ANDREW MUSOLF.

A pioneer Duluth resident, Henry Andrew Musolf, 93, of 105 West Ninth street, died yesterday in his home. He had been a resident here since 1869. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Sutton, Miami, Fla., and Mrs. William Kubiski, Duluth; one son, John D. Musolf, Superior; 23 grandchildren, and 34 great-grandchildren.

Herman Thompson, Local Pioneer, Dies Thursday

Herman Thompson, pioneer resident of this community for 33 years, who lived on Iron Junction road, died yesterday afternoon at the Adams hospital. He had been ill for the past five months.

Survivors include his widow, Martha Thompson; two children, Dolores, 15, and Delano, three; a brother, Matt, Hibbing; two brothers and one sister in Finland.

Funeral services are set for Monday at 1 p. m. from the Ryder chapel with Rev. Milma Lappala from Virginia officiating.

Pallbearers will be Alex Sarkki, Roy Zikmund, Nick Marttila, Emil Anderson, Jack Luhtala and Ed Joki. Honorary pallbearers will be John Rautavirta, Charles Pierness, Henry Kojola, Frank Wilma, Ben Tuppa and John V. Maki.